

CITY WITHIN A CITY

Behind the red walls of the Kremlin can be seen the gold-domed towers of its cathedrals, as well as the vast Grand Kremlin Palace. The Grand Palace, completed in 1849, includes the 17th-century Terem Palace, nine churches, and more than 700 rooms.

△ TYPICALLY RUSSIAN

The Grand Kremlin Palace is adorned with Russian-style window surrounds, which have double arches and drop ornaments and are decorated with the Russian eagle.
