

AL-KHAZNEH

The massive facade of Al-Khazneh, meticulously sculpted into the pink rock face, provides a breathtaking vista when entering Petra through the narrow canyon known as the Siq.

CITY PLAN

Visitors to Petra usually approach the city via the Siq, its main entrance, passing a number of tombs cut into its steep walls before arriving at the famous view of Al-Khazneh at the end of the gorge. The major sites are found on either side of the valley, across which the colonnaded main thoroughfare leads to the Monastery.

△ PALACE TOMB

The largest of the row of four Royal Tombs, the Palace Tomb is carved in imitation of the contemporary Roman style and is believed to have been inspired by Nero's Golden House in Rome.
