

June

15

2006

Marine sanctuary

The waters of the USA's Northwestern Hawaiian Islands became the Papahānaumokuākea Marine National Monument. The sanctuary was later expanded to cover 1,510,000 sq km (583,000 sq miles), making it one of the world's largest protected areas.

Born this day

1950 Michel Lotito, French entertainer. Known as Mr Eat-All, he chomped through objects including bicycles, TVs, and a whole aeroplane.

1878 Horse in motion

British photographer Eadweard Muybridge took a series of photographs of a galloping horse. They formed an image sequence, called The Horse in Motion, which marked a milestone in making moving pictures.

1921

Soaring high

After being refused flight training in the USA, aviator Bessie Coleman earned her flying licence in France, becoming the first Black woman to qualify as a pilot. She became a professional stunt pilot, performing aerial acrobatics.

Also on this day

1215 English nobles forced King John I of England to sign the Magna Carta, a document that stated that rulers were not above the law.

1960 A freak heat burst, known as "Satan's Storm", hit the town of Kopperl, Texas, USA, with temperatures suddenly rising to 60°C (140°F).

1991 Mount Pinatubo in the Philippines exploded, sending an ash cloud 40 km (28 miles) into the air, in the 20th century's second-largest volcanic eruption.

