

Caribbean heroes

The British West Indies Regiment (BWIR) was set up to create a support regiment during World War I. These volunteers from British colonies in the Caribbean helped Britain's war effort in Europe, Africa, and the Middle East.

1915

Also on this day

1838 The Times of India, the world's largest circulated English-language daily newspaper, published its first edition.

1954 The epic monster movie Godzilla was released to packed cinema audiences in Japan, becoming an instant box-office smash.

1973 US space agency NASA launched Mariner 10, the first space probe to reach Mercury.

1911 Chevrolet founded

US car manufacturer Chevrolet was founded. In 1912, it released its first car, the Chevrolet Series C Classic Six, which would challenge Ford's dominant Model T.

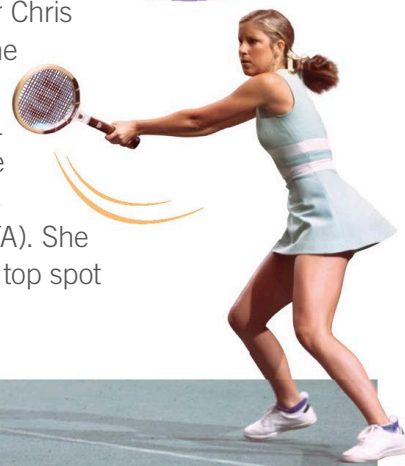

November

3

1975

Tennis ace

US tennis player Chris Evert became the first person to receive the No. 1 ranking from the Women's Tennis Association (WTA). She remained in the top spot for 25 weeks.

Born this day

1900 Adolf Dassler, German cobbler. He founded the sportswear company Adidas, which grew into a global business empire.

1949 Anna Wintour, British-born US journalist. The editor-in-chief of the US magazine Vogue, she is recognized as an influential fashion icon and media powerhouse.