ASYS Software-Plattform SynapticaOS

The ASYS software platform SynapticaOS connects machines, lines, factories, and enterprise networks into a holistic, end-to-end system. It combines modern MES capabilities with solutions for production and material flow optimization, delivering greater efficiency, transparency, and control in manufacturing environments.

SynapticaOS enables the planning, control, and monitoring of production and logistics processes across the value chain. The platform integrates seamlessly into existing MES and ERP landscapes and adapts flexibly to established IT architectures.
