Notebook And Tablets Demand Grows Substantially In Early 2026

India's computing market started 2026 strongly, with PC shipments rising 31.9% YoY to 4.4 million units in the first quarter, driven by a 44.8% surge in notebook shipments and inventory build-up ahead of higher component costs. However, the market is projected to fall by 5% at the end of 2026, before rising slightly by 3% in 2027. Tablet shipments, simultaneously, grew 5.8% to 1.1 million units, supported by consumer (+14%) and commercial (+58%) demand despite weaker education purchases. AI PCs, local manufacturing, and premium devices are expected to support future growth.
