Mozambique suffered a devastating civil war until 1992 and as a consequence many people continue to rely on foreign aid. Floods in 2000 made conditions worse as they left millions homeless and vulnerable.

WORKING ON THE LAND

In both Malawi and Mozambique, agriculture employs more than four out of every five workers. Important crops include cotton, tea, tobacco, and sugar.

VICTORIA FALLS

At Victoria Falls, situated on the Zambia-Zimbabwe border, the mighty Zambezi River drops 128 m (420 ft) down a narrow chasm. The sound of the crashing water can be heard 40 km (25 miles) away.

MADAGASCAN MAMMALS

Madagascar has an unusual range of mammals that developed in isolation after the island split from the African mainland. It is the only place where lemurs, members of the primate family, live in the wild.

APARTHEID

In 1994, Nelson Mandela (1918–2013) became the first black president to govern South Africa. This historic event marked the end of white rule and the first fair elections in the new “Rainbow Nation.” Apartheid was a policy of racial segregation and restricted the rights of black people.

WILDLIFE

Southern Africa is home to a huge variety of animals. Numerous parks have been created to protect the animals and their habitat. The Gaza-Kruger-Gonarezhou Transfrontier Park joins parks in Mozambique, South Africa, and Zimbabwe to form the largest conservation and ecotourism park in Africa.
