

Although his brother had warned him not to accept a gift from Zeus, Epimetheus was enchanted with Pandora and married her.

Pandora could not forget about the jar. One day she peeped inside and all the evils flew out into the world – sickness, sin
and death.

As she closed the lid, hope was the only thing left in the jar. ❖

