

Spiders and scorpions

Arachnids are the hunters of the bug world. With eight legs and impressive mouthparts, they are perfectly designed to catch and kill their prey.

Many spiders make silken webs to catch their prey. They are the only arachnids that can make silk.

SPIDERS

About half of all arachnids are spiders. Most have sharp fangs, which they use to inject venom into their prey, but very few produce venom that is dangerous to humans.

Spiders can be very loving mothers, carrying their egg sacs with them to keep their unborn babies safe.

Cave spider

Australian peacock spider

Not only is the peacock spider bright and colorful, it also has some super funky dance moves, which it uses to show off and attract a mate.
