

Pirate bugs

Plastic ahoy! Piles of waste in the oceans are bad news for the environment.

But there is one tiny creature that is making its home on our plastic junk: the sea skater.

Life at sea

Sea skaters spend their entire lives on the open ocean. They are the only insects that are able to survive the big waves of cold, salty water.

Sea skater

