

Moroccan mint tea is prepared in “breds,” metal teapots that can be heated on coal, and served in “keesan,” traditional tea glasses found in most Moroccan households.