

SMART INFUSERS

Usually made from BPA-free plastic, this infuser is the perfect size for single cups of tea. Place the leaves in the infuser, pour the water over them, then place the infuser on top of a teapot or cup. Release the finished tea into the cup by pushing the button on the lid. Some infusers automatically release the tea when placed on the cup. They are certainly convenient, and favored by tea rooms and tea shops, but no easier to clean than a teapot.

TRAVEL FLASKS

There is an assortment of travel flasks available to make drinking on the go easy and convenient. Most flasks also have thermal insulation to keep the tea hot. Some have glass interiors, but most are made of stainless steel. The best ones have infuser baskets that nestle into the upper part of the flask. These are a mobile version of a teapot with an infuser. Place the dry leaves in the basket and pour some hot water through it. Tightly fasten the lid and invert the flask for infusion.
