

On cold nights, plants may get so cold that moisture in the air freezes onto them instantly, instead of forming liquid dew. This is called hoar frost.

Lightning flashes between the bottom of the thundercloud and the ground.

Sun

Igloos are dome-shaped houses built of solid blocks of snow.

"Wet" snow makes good snowballs.

