

06 Contact details

Telephone numbers, street addresses, email addresses, and web addresses are expressed in slightly different ways in US and UK English.

-  New language Letters and numbers
-  Vocabulary Contact details
-  New skill Exchanging personal information

6.1 VOCABULARY CONTACT DETAILS

The diagram shows a piece of paper with contact details for Mr. Robert Thomas Johnson. Labels with lines pointing to the details are as follows:

- title: Mr.
- first name: Robert
- middle name: Thomas
- last name: Johnson
- house number: 80
- street address: Elm Drive
- town: Birmingham
- country: US
- state: AL
- zip code (US) / postcode (UK): 03337
- cell phone number (US) / mobile number (UK): 1 (617) 555-5351
- email address: rob.johnson@webmail.net

6.2 PRONUNCIATION WEBSITES AND EMAILS

In spoken English, ".com," "@," and ".co.uk" are pronounced as follows:

The diagram shows three examples of domain names and email addresses with callouts for their pronunciation:

- www.domain.com: dot com
- gill.smith99@domain.com: at domain dot com
- gill.smith99@domain.co.uk: at domain dot co dot UK