CREATING YOUR SUMMER STYLE

Summer's coming, so it's time to think about shopping for the new season's gorgeous styles!

This summer's designs are inspired by the dresses of the 1920s and 1950s. There are so many beautiful clothes this season that it makes it difficult when deciding between a cotton or wool cardigan or a silk dress. I'm currently wearing a light-blue dress with a leather belt from a wonderful new collection by Belinda Flynn.

Other amazing items in this collection include cotton cardigans with zips instead of buttons, and shirts with wide collars. I tuck the flowing shirts into smart skirts for work. To make the outfit more casual, I like tying a silk scarf around my waist. If I'm going out in the evening, the only option is Flynn's knee-length silk dress. Wearing a pair of No. 43's fashionable white high heels completes the look.

ABOUT ME

I'm a fashion writer living and working in London. As well as writing about the latest trends, I also enjoy taking photographs of interesting clothes and shoes that I see when I'm walking around the city. Browsing in fabulous clothing stores, trying on clothes, and buying them is my passion. I call it research!
