

58.11 KEY LANGUAGE THE FUTURE CONTINUOUS TO TALK ABOUT THE PRESENT

You can also use the future continuous to speculate about something that might be happening at the present moment.

Have you noticed that Andrew isn't at work today?

He'll be working on his presentation at home.

It's more likely that he'll be watching the golf on TV!

58.12 LISTEN TO THE AUDIO AND MARK WHO SAID EACH SENTENCE

Darren and Kate are talking about why Jonas might not be at work today.

He'll be playing basketball with his nephew.

Darren ☐ Kate ☒ Nobody ☐

1 His nephew will be studying for his big exam.

Darren ☐ Kate ☐ Nobody ☐

2 He'll be playing football with his brother.

Darren ☐ Kate ☐ Nobody ☐

3 I imagine he'll be doing something fun though.

Darren ☐ Kate ☐ Nobody ☐

4 He'll be preparing for tomorrow's big meeting.

Darren ☐ Kate ☐ Nobody ☐

5 He'll be practicing his presentation.

Darren ☐ Kate ☐ Nobody ☐

6 He'll be panicking about the annual accounts.

Darren ☐ Kate ☐ Nobody ☐

58.13 USE THE IMAGES TO SAY SENTENCES USING THE FUTURE CONTINUOUS WITH "WILL"

