What are the environmental consequences of urbanization on such a massive scale? One major effect of urbanization is the creation of "urban heat islands." Rural areas can remain cooler due to the sun evaporating the moisture from the vegetation and the soil. However, in the cities there is much less soil and vegetation. Consequently, the sun beating on the buildings and roads leads to an increase in temperatures. Additional heat from vehicles, factories, and cooling units also increases temperatures. This heat then causes changes in local weather patterns. Not only is there increased air pollution, but also higher levels of rainfall, resulting in flooding within the cities themselves and also downstream. Another consequence of urbanization is the increased consumption of food, energy, and durable goods. This has a far-reaching impact on levels of natural resources.
