

At-a-glance view of key industry trends that can shape the future of your business...

Premium Smartphones Fuel India's 5% Market Growth In Q3 2025

Supported by festive demand and better economic conditions, India's smartphone market grew 5% YoY in the third quarter of 2025. The premium segment above ₹30,000 rose 29%, lifting market value by 18%. vivo led with a 24% share, followed by OPPO (16%), Samsung (13%), and Xiaomi (13%). Apple reached 9%, helped by the iPhone 16, which ranked fifth. Among 'Others' brands, Motorola recorded strong growth with shipments rising 53%.

India Smartphone Shipments Market Share

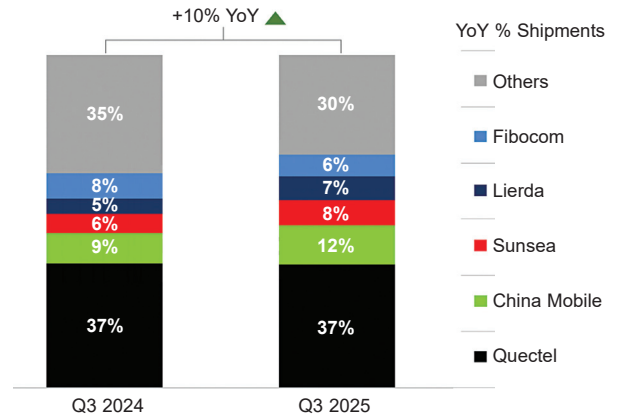

(Source: Counterpoint Research)

Cellular IoT Shipments Rise 10% Globally, Profit Pressures Intensify

Global cellular IoT module shipments rose 10% YoY in the third quarter of 2025. Quectel led, with 37% share, while China Mobile's market share took a leap from 9% to 12%, and the 'Others' category shrank from 35% to 30%. Growth was driven by smart metering, asset tracking, routers and automotive applications, as industries shifted away from legacy systems.

Tighter margins are pushing vendors to prioritise cash flow for investments in RedCap and AI-enabled products.

Global Cellular IoT Module Shipments Share by Vendor

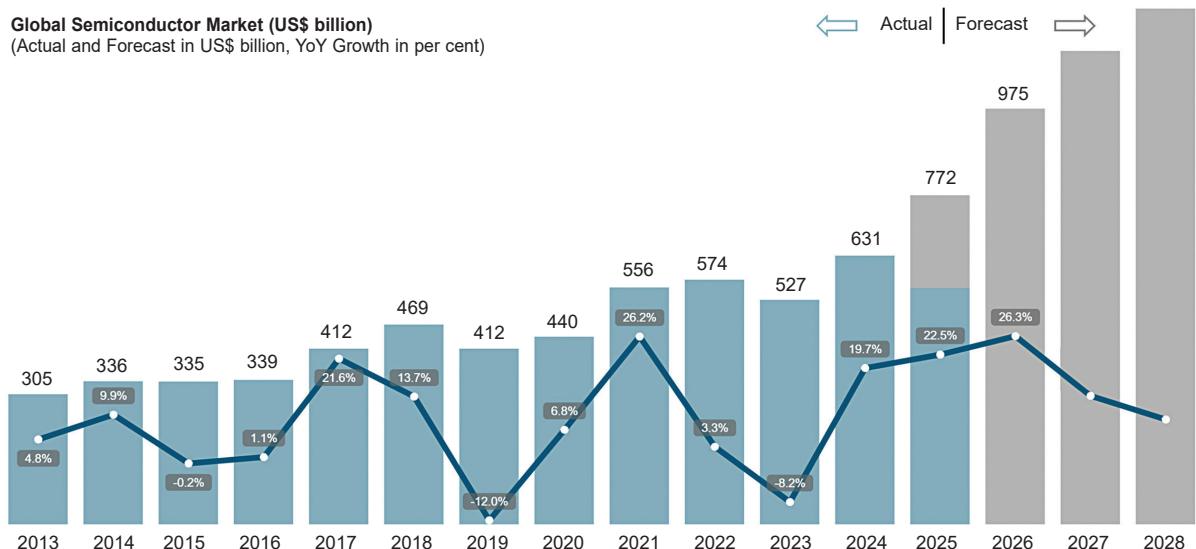

(Source: Counterpoint Research)

AI Push Drives Global Chip Market Towards US$1 Trillion In 2025

The global semiconductor industry is closing in on the US$1 trillion milestone. Chip revenues are projected to reach US$772 billion in 2025 and climb to US$975 billion in 2026, marking 26.3% YoY growth. Demand from AI and high-performance computing is powering the surge. Logic chips are forecast to grow 37%, while memory is set to expand 28%. Sensors, microprocessors, analogue and optoelectronics are also returning to growth.

Global Semiconductor Market (US$ billion)

(Actual and Forecast in US$ billion, YoY Growth in per cent)

(Source: WSTS)