

At-a-glance view of key industry trends that can shape the future of your business...

India's Tablet Market Contracts Sharply, 32% YoY Decline In 1H25

India's tablet shipments fell 32.2% YoY to 2.15 million units in 1H25, with slate tablets plunging 44.4% and detachables up 18.9%. Consumer sales rose 20.5% YoY, but commercial shipments crashed 61.7%, led by a 66.7% drop in education demand. Among the vendors, Samsung led with 41.3% share, followed by Lenovo (12.3%), Apple (11.8%), Xiaomi (11.4%), and Acer (9.1%).

India Top Five Tablet Companies (Market Share, YoY Growth)

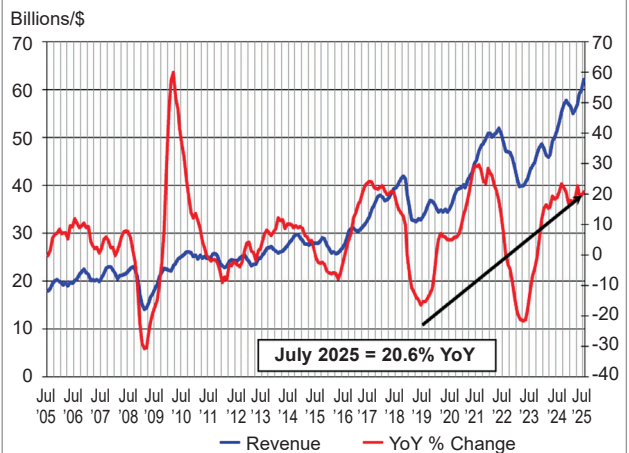

(Source: www.linkedin.com)

Global Semiconductor Sales Surge 20.6% YoY In July 2025

Global semiconductor sales reached $62.1 billion in July 2025, rising 20.6% YoY and 3.6% MoM. Region-wise, the Americas led with $19.91 billion (+8.6% MoM, +29.3% YoY), while Asia Pacific/All Other posted $17.08 billion (+4.9% MoM, +35.6% YoY). Annually, China's sales grew 10.4%, Europe's 5.7%, but Japan's declined 6.3%. Strong demand in artificial intelligence, automotive, and consumer electronics continues to drive momentum.

Worldwide Semiconductor Revenues (YoY % Change)

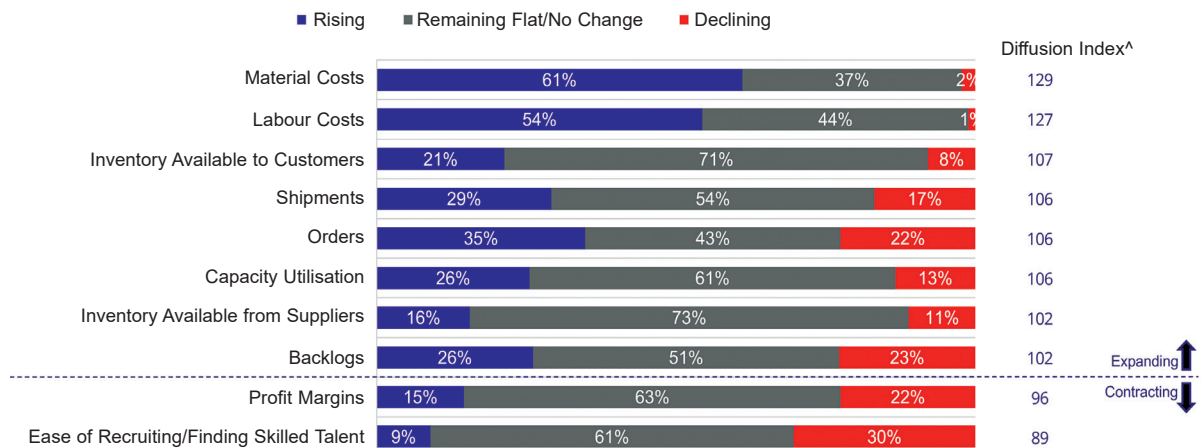

(Source: WSTS)

Electronics Supply Chain Feels Pressure Amid Cost Surge

Globally, 61% of electronics manufacturers report rising material costs (index 129) and 54% face higher labour costs (index 127), while demand stays steady. Profit margins remain weak (index 96), though orders, shipments, and capacity show resilience (index 106). Labour shortages affect 63% of firms, with hiring ease down to 89. Regionally, Asia-Pacific posts marginal gains, whereas North America contends with inflationary pressures.

Current Conditions for the Electronics Supply Chain

^AA diffusion index is a statistical measure used to detect economic turning points

(Source: <https://emails.ipc.org>)