

Language modules

New language points are taught in carefully graded stages, starting with a simple explanation of when they are used, then offering further examples of common usage, and a detailed breakdown of how key constructions are formed.

Module number Every module is identified with a unique number, so you can track your progress and easily locate any related audio.

Module heading The teaching topic appears here, along with a brief introduction.

15.1 KEY LANGUAGE TWO COMPARATIVES TOGETHER

You can make comparisons that show cause and effect by using two comparatives in one sentence.

The harder I train, the stronger I get.

Implies that training causes you to get stronger.

Sample language New language points are introduced in context. Colored highlights make new constructions easy to spot, and annotations explain them.

15.2 FURTHER EXAMPLES TWO COMPARATIVES TOGETHER

The worse the children behave, the angrier the teacher gets.

The louder the cat meows, the louder the dog barks.

Graphic guide Clear, simple visuals help to explain the meaning of new language forms and when to use them, and also act as an aid to learning and recall.

Supporting audio This symbol indicates that the model sentences featured in the module are available as audio recordings.

15.3 HOW TO FORM TWO COMPARATIVES TOGETHER

Formation guide Visual guides break down English grammar into its simplest parts, showing you how to recreate even complex formations.

Vocabulary Throughout the book, vocabulary modules list the most useful English words and phrases, with visual cues to help you remember them.

Write-on lines You are encouraged to write your own translations of English words to create your own reference pages.

6.1 TRAVEL AND TOURISM

We need a vacation. We got away for a week. (vacation: a holiday)	When we go to Paris, we have time to go sightseeing. (sightseeing: visiting places of interest)	We're going to look around the flower district this morning. (look around: to visit)	Every time I drive into the city I get hopelessly lost. (hopelessly: very)
We were a little late to the airport. (a little: a small amount)	I always forget to check in. (forget: to not remember)	We stopped off at a couple of museums along the way. (stop off: to visit briefly)	You will get your boarding passes when you check in. (check in: to arrive at a place)
The nearest airport is 10 miles away. (nearest: closest)	They lived in a house with a view of the city. (view: a sight)	We have to check out of the hotel before 11pm. (check out: to leave a place)	We're going to check out the new restaurant. (check out: to look at)
The hotels in this area are all quite good. (all: every)	There are so many things to see in this city. (so many: a large number)	The first leg of the journey is a long flight to Singapore. (leg: a part of a journey)	It's only a weekend get-together, so we won't need much luggage. (get-together: a social gathering)
I'll never settle down. I get restless every few years. (settle down: to become established)	My son's thirst for adventure won't let him stay in one place for long. (thirst for: to want very much)	I'm really looking forward to seeing the pyramids. (look forward to: to expect with pleasure)	My parents came to the airport to see me off. (see me off: to say goodbye)