

17 Marketing a product

You can use a variety of adjectives and adverbs to describe the key features when marketing a product or service.
Not all adjectives can be modified in the same way.

-  New language Adjectives and adverbs
- Aa Vocabulary Descriptive adjectives
-  New skill Modifying descriptions of products

17.1 WRITE THE WORDS FROM THE PANEL IN THE CORRECT GROUPS

EXTREME

enormous

ABSOLUTE

true

CLASSIFYING

metal

electronic terrible wrong brilliant furious ~~enormous~~ scientific woolen perfect fascinating equal ~~true~~ impossible industrial exhausted organic ~~metal~~ unique empty rural awful

17.2 MARK THE SENTENCES THAT ARE CORRECT

The test was absolutely impossible.

The test was fairly impossible.

4 Jon is an absolutely good speaker.

Jon is an extremely good speaker.

1 The factory was totally destroyed.

The factory was very destroyed.

5 Peter is nearly good at Spanish.

Peter is fairly good at Spanish.

2 I was thoroughly tired this morning.

I was thoroughly exhausted this morning.

6 The project is largely complete.

The project is very complete.

3 The warehouse is almost empty.

The warehouse is very empty.

7 Sian is a fairly brilliant swimmer.

Sian is an utterly brilliant swimmer.

