FURTHER EXAMPLES

Harry looks just like his father.

This seems like a lovely place to live.

Whatever you're cooking smells delicious!

After leaving school, she became a teacher.

49.4 TRANSITIVE AND INTRANSITIVE VERBS

Some verbs take an object, which is a noun or phrase that receives the action of the verb. Verbs which take an object are known as transitive verbs.

Some verbs never take an object. These verbs are known as intransitive verbs.

Some verbs can be either transitive or intransitive.

"Read" can be used with or without an object.

Some verbs can take two objects, a direct object and an indirect object.

The indirect object benefits from the action.

The direct object is what the verb "gave" refers to.
