

55.2 PHRASAL VERBS IN DIFFERENT TENSES

When phrasal verbs are used in different tenses, the verb changes, but the particle remains the same.

PRESENT SIMPLE

I work out every week.

PAST SIMPLE

I worked out yesterday.

PRESENT CONTINUOUS

I am working out right now.

FUTURE WITH "WILL"

I will work out tomorrow.

The particle never changes.

FURTHER EXAMPLES

I cleaned up the kitchen last night.

Their car is always breaking down.

I think we're lost! We should have looked up the route.

She doesn't dress up very often.

You should go over your answers again.

I am counting on Rajiv to give the presentation next week.

I can't believe she turned down the job.

I met up with my friends last weekend.

I'm still getting over the flu.

When will they grow up?