

95 Two comparatives together

Two comparatives can be used together in a sentence to show the effect of an action. They are also used to show that something is changing.

See also:
Comparative adjectives 94

95.1 COMPARATIVES SHOWING CAUSE AND EFFECT

Pairing two phrases that use comparative adjectives is a way of making comparisons that show cause and effect.

The harder I train, the stronger I get.

Implies that training results in getting stronger.

FURTHER EXAMPLES

The worse the children behave, the angrier the teacher gets.

The louder the cat meows, the louder the dog barks.

HOW TO FORM

