

Adverbs of frequency show how often something is done, from something done very frequently ("always") to something not done at all ("never").

See also:

Forming questions 34

102.1 ADVERBS OF FREQUENCY

HOW TO FORM

Adverbs of frequency usually go between the subject and the main verb. The time phrase usually goes at the end of the sentence.

