

111.4 "WHEN"

English uses "when" as a conjunction to talk about events or actions in the future that must happen before another event or action can take place. These phrases are called subordinate time clauses and are usually used with the present simple.

FURTHER EXAMPLES

When I finish my report, I'll call you.

When you get home, will you make dinner?

Subordinate time clauses can also be used to ask about future events.

I'll put up shelves when the paint dries.

When it stops raining, I'll go out.

ANOTHER WAY TO SAY IT

UK English sometimes uses the present perfect instead of the present simple in subordinate time clauses.

When it has stopped raining, we'll go outside.

We'll go outside when it has stopped raining.

We won't go outside until it has stopped raining.

The present perfect still describes a future event.
