

118.2 CHANGING SUBJECT

"By the way" shows a change of subject.

I think this gallery is fantastic.
Oh, by the way, did you read the article about this exhibit in The Times?

"As I was saying" returns to a previous subject after a change of subject or an interruption.

As I was saying, this is a fantastic exhibit. I really like the range of artwork.

"Anyway" returns to a subject after an interruption or a change in subject. It can also end a subject or a conversation.

Anyway, I should say goodbye. I want to visit the gallery shop before it closes.

118.3 CONCEDED A POINT

Certain words can be used to agree to, or concede, a point, particularly after first doubting it to be true.

I told you this museum is very expensive.

You're right! I expected it to be cheaper.

FURTHER EXAMPLES

I think this sculpture is made of stone.

You have a good point. At first I thought it was metal.

This painting could be by Picasso.

I see your point. The style is similar.
