

Social media has supported the rise of celebrity culture.

celebrity culture

[the popular culture that surrounds famous people]

Some people go on talent shows to become famous.

a talent show

[a competition with performances by entertainers showcasing their skills]

It's not fair when the paparazzi invade people's privacy.

the paparazzi

[photographers who take pictures of famous people without their consent]

My favorite actors were on the red carpet this evening.

the red carpet

[a carpet for important guests to walk or stand on at an event]

Read our exclusive interview with the stars of the movie tomorrow!

an exclusive interview

[an interview that no other source has obtained]

Lee's claim to fame was that he could eat five burgers in five minutes.

a claim to fame

[the thing that somebody or something is known for, often said jokingly]

I enjoy reality shows because I'm nosy about people's lives.

a reality show

[a show based on or around real-life events]

The opening night of the show was a great success.

the opening night

[the first night of a show or movie]

Kelly has had a truly meteoric rise in the music industry.

a meteoric rise

[a very rapid rise, often in a career]

Everyone was talking about her attention-grabbing dress.

attention-grabbing

[designed or intended to get your attention quickly]

