

13.11 Listen and read.

Is there a TV
in the living room?

Yes, there is.

Is there a bookcase?

No, there isn't.

Is there a TV in the living room?

Is there

a TV

in the living room?

Use these words to ask if something
is present.

Then add the thing you're asking about.

You can also mention
a specific place.

Yes,

there is.

You can answer Yes
or Yes, there is.

No,

there isn't.

You can answer No or
No, there isn't.

How it works

Use Is there to ask if something is located somewhere. Put a or an before the thing you're asking about.
