

21.8 Listen and read.

It's my party!
I'm wearing a hat.

I'm wearing shorts.

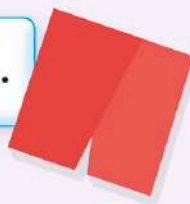

I'm wearing a hat.

I'm wearing a hat.

To say what you are wearing now, say I'm, followed by the verb with ing at its end.

I'm wearing shorts.

Some items of clothing, such as shorts, pants, or glasses, use the plural form.

How it works

These are examples of the present continuous form of the verb to wear. Use the present continuous to talk about doing something in the present moment.

