Are you wearing my shoes?

To ask someone a question, put Are you before the verb.

Add ing to the verb.

If you're wearing the item, you can say Yes or Yes, I am.

If you're not wearing the item, you can say No or No, I'm not.

How it works

To ask a question in the present continuous, put Are you before the ing form of the verb.
