Is she your sister?

Is she your sister?

Use Is she to ask about a girl or woman.

Use your to ask if someone is related to the person you're talking to.

Yes, she is.

You can answer Yes or Yes, she is.

Is he your dad?

Use Is he to ask about a boy or man.

No, he isn't.

You can answer No or No, he isn't.

How it works

To ask a question using the verb to be, put is before he or she.

Your is the possessive adjective to say that something belongs to the person you're talking to.

Is not → Isn't
